

Don't Dine Alone – Chacombe Care Home fights off the winter blues.

Staff at Chacombe Park care home are extending a warm hand of friendship to fight off the cold this winter.

The home is a stunning country mansion in 21 acres of glorious Oxfordshire countryside in Chacombe village.

The team there, led by General Manager David Walpole, is extending a friendly arm and offering a hot meal to anyone who is elderly and living alone this winter.

“Our elderly are never more at risk or more isolated than when the cold sets in and the days get shorter,” says David. “We are so lucky to have such a fabulous place as Chacombe to offer and want to widen our doors to invite any local people who would benefit from a hot lunch and some company each Sunday until Christmas.

“Barchester has a tradition of open doors and open hearts to the communities around our homes. We would love to share Chacombe with more of our neighbours.”

If you would like to dine at Chacombe Park call 01295 712001 and ask for David or Siobhan to book your place.
