A 25 YEARS RETROSPECTIVE OF PORTRAIT PHOTOGRAPHY BY DONALD MACLELLAN

Donald MacLellan studied photography at Salisbury College of Art and spent several years assisting established photographers before setting up as a freelance photographer for national newspapers and magazines.

He has worked as a portrait photographer for 25 years for UK and international magazines, mainly capturing actors, writers, artists and celebrities.

This new exhibition is a compilation from 4 major shows, 3 of which were solo shows at the National Portrait Gallery in London: currently he is the only photographer in the history of the gallery to have achieved this accolade.

The shows are:

Black Power (1998)

Tartan Army (2000)

"Want to See More of Me" (2008)

Pink Power (2010)

His work is also in the permanent collection of the Scottish National Portrait Gallery.

Opening times: Weekend 11.00am-3.00pm Please park in the school's main car park
Weekdays 11.00am-3.00pm Please park in the school's overflow car park
